GNWPCD Welcomes Town Councilwoman Veronica Lurvey

The Great Neck Water Pollution Control District recently welcomed newly appointed Town of North Hempstead Councilwoman Veronica Lurvey to its state-of-the-art wastewater treatment facility. Lurvey represents the Town's 4th District which encompasses a portion of the District's service area and its headquarters located at 236 E Shore Road.

During Councilwoman Lurvey's visit, Great Neck Water Pollution Control District Commissioner Patty Katz, Commissioner Jerry Landsberg, Commissioner Steve Reiter and Superintendent Christopher Murphy discussed the functional operations of the facility and the investment in cost-saving, environmentally-friendly infrastructure—which earned the District the 2018 New York State Department of Environmental Conservation's Environmental Excellence Award.

The District, alongside Councilwoman Lurvey—a former partner of the District's "Shed the Meds" events in her previous capacity with North Shore Action, will continue to work toward decisions aimed at lessening the burden for taxpayers while protecting the environment for future generations.

About the GNWPCD

The Great Neck Water Pollution Control District (GNWPCD) is a commissioner-run Special Improvement District within the Town of North Hempstead. The GNWPCD has provided sewage services for the Great Neck area since 1914, and currently serves more than 25,000 residents and businesses in the villages of Great Neck, Saddle Rock, Kensington, and those parts of Thomaston and Great Neck Plaza east of Middle Neck Road; as well as all unincorporated areas north of the Long Island Rail Road and a part of Manhasset. The GNWPCD's mission is to protect our bay, the environment and the health of our society.
